Cruse against cable fee, but he can't tune it out

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The basic cable TV rate will not be reduced, but improved service and additional channels were promised to Mayor Von Dee Cruse on Wednesday.

Cencom representatives met with Cruse to explain why the rate went up Jan. 1 to $10.95 a month and why the basic rate for senior citizens was increased. Cencom general manager Bill Emling, and Floyd Rogers, director of governmental relations, offered no change in the company's rate position.

Rate queries tie up lines

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Questions about increased cable TV rates have telephone lines jammed at Cencom Cable Associates' Maryville office.

Bill Emling, Cencom general manager, said his office is getting many calls about the rate increase following bills received Dec. 26. The calls tie up phone lines, he said.

"We have not had the phone off the hook," Emling said. "A new phone system, Emling said, is expected to be installed Jan. 29, replacing a 15-year-old system."

THE RATE increase, Rogers said, was necessary to help fund Cencom's plans to invest $2.5 million this year to upgrade equipment and improve operations in the local cable system.

One improvement, Rogers said, will be the installation of equipment preventing cable TV from going out during a storm.

The Discovery Channel and Cable Value Network have been added to the local system, Emling said. The St. Louis Baseball Cardinal network will be available on a seasonal basis for an additional fee, he said. Also, Nickelodeon will be on for 24 hours, Emling said.

UNIFORMITY of rates, Rogers said, was another reason for the rate increase. Granite City and Pontoon Beach residents paid different rates for cable TV services than Madison, Emling said. He said this and Venice residents. (See RATES, Page 6A)

Brandy still at Brandy's

By Donna Kimbro

Staff writer

MADISON — Brandy's still has brandy, not to mention beer, other drinks and food.

But the flow of drinks is not entirely smooth. A recent favorable tavern recommendation by the Zoning Board of Appeals touched off another heated debate at the Jan. 13 City Council meeting.

The recommendation was to grant licenses for business and liquor to Pam Dymas of Pontoon Beach to operate a tavern-restaurant at 1001 Iowa St. She is the widow of Sam Dymas, former Madison city recreation director.

MAYOR JOHN BELLOCFF and Alderman Robert Grieve were among those speaking out on the issue last week.

Bellocff asked Grieve if he voted against the recommendation because residents near the tavern had not received letters notifying them of the Zoning Board hearing. That was a chief reason cited by the alderman at the previous council session.

Grieve responded, saying that was his reason — because people did not have a chance to object to the business before approval was given to the new owner. He also previously contended that "set procedures that everyone has to go through" were not followed in this instance.

The mayor called on City Inspector John Dutko, who said he sent letters to all homeowners in the vicinity.

Man charged with robbery is mental health client

By Bill Bagby

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A man charged in the Dec. 27 armed robbery of a Granite City confectionery was living in a residential facility for people suffering from emotional illness.

John Johnson, director of Mental Health Services of Southern Madison County Inc., said the man, Troy D. Phillips, lived with two other Mental Health Services' clients in an apartment above the garage in the rear of 2440 Grand Ave.

PHILLIPS, 22, was arrested at the apartment Dec. 27 and was charged with armed robbery. He allegedly placed a knife near the neck of an employee of Schewe's Corner Confectionery, 2556 Grand, and demanded money from a cash register. Phillips is being held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Johnson said this is the first time an incident like this has occurred since Mental Health Services began providing housing in 1978.

"The housing is for clients who are not prepared to live independently, but who wish to receive services that will lead to independent living in the community," Johnson said. CLIENTS ATTEND treatment groups or employment training in the day, Johnson said. In the evening, they participate in skill-building groups such as cooking and nutrition, budgeting, apartment maintenance and therapeutic recreation, he said.

"Staff supervision is available until 10 p.m. daily, 365 days per year," Johnson said.

"Rules and regulations must be followed or (the) client loses the residential privilege."

The residential housing program, Johnson said, has been very successful.

THREE CLIENTS were first moved into the house April 1, Johnson said. The owner, Ruth Andrews, received no objections from surrounding residents about the clients living there, Johnson said. Other clients were moved into the house as space became available, he said.

Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk said Andrews initially told him that three women clients would be living in the house. He was not informed when the other clients were moved in, he said.

A MEETING is being planned with Johnson to discuss the matter, Fisk said.

Opposition was voiced at a Nov. 5 council meeting by some residents about a Mental Health Services facility at 4182 N. Main St. Residents said they, along with city officials, were not informed that five clients were living there.

Obstacle anchors port purchase

By Dave Gosnell

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The construction of a fence in all that remains to complete the sale of Army land to the Tri-City Regional Port District.

The General Services Administration, the property arm of the government, has formally approved a mortgage agreement with the port to transfer 104 acres and a large warehouse from the St. Louis Area Support Center to the port. The Port District board on Monday approved the execution of the purchase and the repayment of a $750,000 mortgage note.

BUT THE DEAL will not be completed until a $750,000 fence is built separating the new port property from Army land.

The Army asked the port to build the fence as part of the purchase contract.

The port hired Granite City Fence

Co. in November to build the fence but the company was not able to begin construction because of GSA delays in transferring the title.

Port General Manager Bob Wydra told the board that the Army is now asking that the fence be built 10 feet within Army property instead of on the new port property.

WYDRA SAID the new fence location was requested because the Army wanted to patrol the fence on its land.

"We won't close until the fence is complete. There are a couple of issues remaining," he said.

Wydra said, though the purchase agreement did not call for the fence to be built on Army land, the district would probably not oppose the new location.

But, he said, the district must negotiate with the Army on who will be responsible for the fence's maintenance and any liability questions.

HE AND PORT Engineer Jerry Lavelle and Port Attorney Eric Robertson are expected to meet with Support Center representatives this week.

"Whoever's property it's on will have ultimate maintenance responsibility," Lavelle said.

Wydra said he hoped construction of the fence would begin next week; once the fence is finished, the purchase will be complete.

THE MORTGAGE agreement calls for the port to pay off a $750,000 note in 15 years.

Under a separate agreement, Fox Industries, of Granite City, put up much of the money to finance the $912,000 land purchase.

In return, Fox will have a lease on the 122,900 square-foot warehouse there and will operate the port's Foreign Trade Zone.

Annexation of an "island" area of North Granite City was proposed Monday by the Granite City Council. Strong opposition was anticipated from Nameoki Township officials and the township's supervisor, Harry Briggs. The unincorporated area is completely surrounded by Granite City.

Rev. Rouse to honor Dr. King

PRINCIPAL speaker will be the Rev. John H. Rouse at public memorial services honoring Dr. Martin Luther King at 3:30 p.m. today at New Salem Baptist Church, 1329 Main St., Venice. Civic leaders and ministers will lead a community march starting at 2:30 p.m. today from Market Street and Line Alley to the church.

Patients try to be doctors due to TV

By Paul Harvey

Americans are learning more about medical science — for better or worse.

Internists can always tell when some doctor-drama on television has detailed a heroic struggle with sporotrichosis because the next day his waiting room will be filled with patients convinced they have the symptoms of sporotrichosis.

They almost never do.

Compounding the doctor's dilemma is the fact that papers on new therapies and new remedies in professional medical journals are often reported on radio and TV and in newspapers before the doctor has had time to read them.

Thus Americans are better informed than any heretofore.

An astute listener-observer can become quite educated about medicine.

One result of this is negative. Doctors are seen less as "authority figures" than when their nostrums were more of a mystery.

Much of a patient's recovery from most ailments relates to his own mental attitude. A physician's confidence beside him has traditionally been highly constructive in enhancing a patient's confidence and subsequent well-being.

If the patient thinks he knows more than the doctor, this "magic" is sacrificed.

Beyond this, an increasing number of patients are willing to argue with their physician.

Paul Harvey News

By Paul Harvey

challenge his medical opinion with their own.

A patient may insist on treatment which his physician knows to be unnecessary.

This next is painful for a newsman to concede, but our efforts to reduce technical papers to lay language often result in enhancing expectations beyond what is realistic.

Hard as we try to qualify research findings, all the listener or reader is likely to retain is the headline that got his attention in the first place.

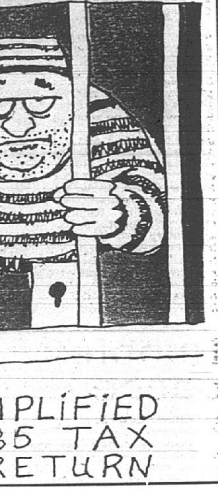

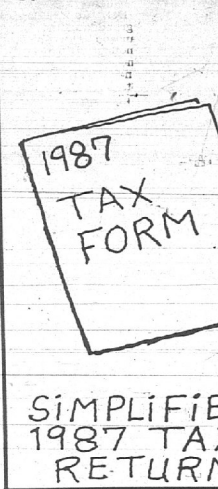

"Have you heard," he confronts his doctor, "about the new therapy or the new device or the new drug which cures just what I've got?"

So untenable is the physician's position in this situation that two doctors — Alton Brett and Lawrence McCullough — have prepared for the New England Journal of Medicine "guidelines" for this new doctor-patient relationship.

The bottom line is that "doctors must resist providing treatment simply because a patient is insistent."

A guideline for the rest of us might be, "Don't outsmart yourself."

Dr. King's dream becoming a reality

If Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was living on this earth today, he would have been 58 years old this Jan. 15. It has been 19 years since this coming April 4, 1968, since the assassin shot down the "man with a dream" in Memphis, Tenn.

It's amazing how 19 years ago this humble-hearted, God-chosen Baptist preacher spoke for justice and freedom. Dr. King's spirit is still moving and his cry for freedom is still being heard. It is ringing all over the world.

Monday, Jan. 19, will mark the second national holiday in observance of his birthday. We can look back and thank God for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a man of peace.

The Bible said, "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God." Even in the midst of being hated, cursed, beaten, attacked by dogs, water-hosed while marching, being stoned, stabbed and put in jail, he was a peacemaker.

"The dreamer" spoke to this nation on Aug. 28, 1963, when more than 200,000 people marched to Washington D.C., the national capital, and stood from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial.

He spoke because he had to tell America about a dream that he had, about black and white children playing and living together as sisters and brothers.

Dr. King said he had a dream that someday in the United States, people would be judged by their characters, rather than by the color of their skin.

As we look back and give a report to Dr. King, truly we have made some progress, but racial prejudice is still roaming like an untamed, hungry beast.

We know it still exists in America.

Your views

THE REV. John Henry Williams is pastor of the New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1349 Klein Ave., Venice. He is a past president of the Venice Park Board.

Martin, we have made a little progress, both black and white.

Your dream is taking place in one of the largest cities in the South, Atlanta, Ga. Atlanta does have Mayor Andrew Young, and before him Maynard Jackson, the first black mayor of that city.

Even in Birmingham, Ala., where in 1963 you led thousands of demonstrators against racial segregation, there now is a black mayor, Richard Arrington.

Even in Mississippi, back in 1964 in the state of Mississippi, three young "civil rights workers were murdered during the summer "freedom campaign" to register voters.

In the November 1966 election, Mississippi sent a black man to Congress, the first since Reconstruction.

Yes, Martin, your dream is still alive.

Even in Chicago, the Windy City, as it is called, where you were stoned for a peaceful march.

Yes, Dr. King, Chicago is still filled with racial hatred, but your dream is still alive. A black mayor by the name of Harold Washington serves that city.

Your dream took a flight that shook up the West Coast, Los Angeles, second largest city in the United States, has a black mayor, Thomas Bradley.

We know that gains have been made through your efforts and those of my white brothers and sisters who believe in justice for all. Because of your dream, we have improved.

We think of the words that you cried out in April 1968, that night in Memphis, about being "free at last."

Freedom is taking one step at a time, Martin, even our black brothers and sisters in South Africa are crying out, "We want to be free."

All over this nation, in the Middle East, and everywhere — people are rising up and saying, "Give us your freedom."

Remember when you were arrested in a sit-in — a peaceful protest in Birmingham against its citywide racial discrimination policy?

You were arrested and put in jail although you were acting against injustice and discrimination.

Martin, you wrote, "Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

Truly your dream is still alive and, believe me, there are many thousands, both black and white, who will continue to keep it alive.

With Almighty God and prayer, we believe that same spirit God gave you can change the hearts of people. It can let them see people as they are, not merely what color he or she is.

We pray that God's love will reach the hearts of all men and women, boys and girls, and bring us into one happy family — as sisters and brothers.

Well, Martin, this is just a partial report. I hope next time we can have an even better report.

In conclusion, Martin, I stopped by the Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta. I sat in your pews. I went to the King Center and saw your clothes.

I even saw your robe, your old shoes that you marched in, your ring, and books that you wrote.

Then I went back to the church and saw the words carved on the tomb, "Free At Last."

While I stood there, I felt your presence and I looked and saw the flame that burns 24 hours a day.

I got to thinking: The dreamer is not dead; he just went to a better place, somewhere with God, where one day, truly, we will join him and the other saints and tell this world goodbye.

Then we can say truly, "Thank God, Almighty, we are free at last."

See you later, Dr. King. We believe in you, and in your dream.

Trash — where does it all come from?

Where does all the trash come from?

I've come to the conclusion that it multiplies as it waits in the waste can before being carried out to the trash container.

I carry out no less than three huge plastic bags of trash each week to our trash container, but have yet to figure out how our family throws away that much.

I am a professional saver of just about anything and my two little boys haven't yet parted with even the boxes their Christmas gifts came in.

My wife usually buys about four or five shopping bags of items at the grocery store each week, but even if we would load this straight into the trash can it wouldn't add up to as much trash as I carry out to the container each week.

Of course, there are the three local newspapers and one St. Louis newspaper we read each week, but the total mass of these doesn't add much to the waste can. And there's the trash mail we receive, too.

Where does the rest of the trash come from? Does it sneak into the house and jump into the waste can when no one is looking?

On the day after Christmas I can understand having a lot of trash, what with all the gift boxes and wrapping paper and other packaging materials.

But in the dead of winter when berries are usually all that is brought into the house, how can we manage to fill three, and sometimes

Columnists' Club

By Pat Foley

four, huge plastic trash bags?

The answer should be simple. What is brought into the house minus what is consumed should equal what's put into the trash can, but it never works that way and my back can testify to this.

Just last week we had so much trash that the 80-gallon container provided to us by the city was bulging full. So I had to meet the trash men with two more huge and heavy bags.

It really stacks up when we have bad weather and the trash men can't get through the alleys to empty the containers.

And bad weather sure doesn't make the trash out any more enjoyable, either. Trudging through the snow and slush all the way to the trash container while carrying huge bags of trash is no fun on a cold night.

Not that taking the trash out on a nice day is any fun.

Even though the tiring rid of the stuff is beneficial, actually doing it is rarely a job one would fight to do. But the question, or mystery, still remains: Where does all of the trash come from?

names of those burglars, kids or not. That's a newspaper's job, isn't it?

How should the newspaper handle calls from Dennis' father and Mr. Wilson?

Dennis' parents should be concerned because, if the newspaper prints the boy's name, his future could be wrecked and so could their community standing.

Mr. Wilson and the public have concerns, too. A burglar is a burglar, no matter the age. And other children, who were brought up the "right" way, may be associating with Dennis and his friends. Doesn't the public have a right to know a burglar's name so it can avoid that person?

Some would say such questions are pointless, since, as Dennis' parents thought, newspapers can't print the names of juvenile offenders. Those who think that are wrong. A newspaper can print the name and charge.

Newspapers seldom print the names of juveniles, but if legally obtained, the names can be printed, said Denise Joehi, editor of Illinois Publisher, an Illinois Press Association publication.

"It's just a policy on most newspapers not to publish the names

Juvenile police cases could be news of juveniles unless there are extenuating circumstances," Joehi said Wednesday.

Newspapers understand that in juvenile cases the court's aim is rehabilitation. The court tries to protect the juvenile's privacy and newspapers consent to comply. But the law upholds the right of the press to publish a juvenile's name.

In the case of Oklahoma Publishing Co. v. District Court, 430 U.S. 308 (1977), the press was allowed to attend a hearing involving an 11-year-old boy who shot and killed a railroad switchman. The boy was named during the hearing, but the judge and later the Oklahoma Supreme Court said the name could not be published. The U.S. Supreme Court reversed the decision, stating the First Amendment "will not permit a state court to prohibit the publication of widely disseminated information obtained at court proceedings which were in fact open to the public."

In 1979, in Smith v. Daily Mail Publishing Co., 445 U.S. 97 (1979), the press challenged a West Virginia statute that made it a crime to publish a juvenile offender's name. The press had, using legal means, learned and printed the name of a juvenile accused of murder. The state tried to punish the newspaper, but the Virginia Supreme Court ruled the statute unconstitutional.

What the court concluded was that "if a newspaper lawfully obtains truthful information about a matter of public significance then state officials may not constitutionally punish publication of the information, absent a need to further a state interest of the highest order. A free press cannot be made to rely solely upon the sufficiency of government to supply it with information."

In this state, the press can attend juvenile proceedings, based on Ill. Rev. Stat. Ch. 37, 701-20(6), which states, "The general public except the news media shall be excluded from any (juvenile) hearing."

With the law in the newspaper's corner, the press can publish the names of juvenile offenders.

But publishing the name of a juvenile rarely occurs. Only if there was something particularly heinous about a juvenile's crime, such as a rape or murder, would this newspaper even consider making an effort to go after the juvenile's name.

In the hypothetical case of Dennis robbing Mr. Wilson's house, the crime would be reprehensible and we would understand and agree with Mr. Wilson's outrage, but not to the degree that the newspaper would risk the boy's chance for rehabilitation.

It's a tough call to handle when someone like Dennis' father is on the line belligerently asserting that the press has no right to publish his son's name. It's also tough to hear from those like Mr. Wilson who deserve satisfaction. But this newspaper must ignore insults from parents and anger from victims if it is to follow a consistent pattern when dealing with juveniles.

Though we can print the names of juvenile offenders, we prefer to follow the court's logic that it's better to give a youngster a chance to change than to take away his hope.

Case law cited in this article appeared in "The First Amendment and the Fourth Estate" by Marc A. Franklin, Foundation Press Inc., White Plains, N.Y., 1981.

Pontoon grabs more land

By Susanne Indelicato

PONTON BEACH — Village boundaries expanded again when seven Smith Acres subdivision lots were annexed Tuesday.

The Village Board voted to annex the following sites, whose owners petitioned for the annexation: 4548 Illinois 162, owned by Edward A. and Sara Benko, to be zoned as a single-family residence; 4546 Illinois 162, owned by W. Lee and Elizabeth D. Adams, to be zoned as single-family residence; to retain a wedding shop; 4538 Illinois 162, owned by Pauline Ropac, to be zoned for a single-family residence; 4539 Illinois 162, owned by Richard A. and Carolyn Y. Counts, to be zoned for agriculture; 4522 Illinois 162, owned by William E. and Shirley H. White, to be zoned for a single-family residence; 4524 Illinois 162, owned by Marion M. and Katherine H. Robinson, to be zoned for a single-family residence; and 4532 Illinois 162, owned by Gary and Linda Woods, to be zoned for a single-family residence.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the Village Board accepted a franchise with Southwestern Electric Cooperative Inc., which will allow the company to continue serving areas now inside the village boundaries.

The franchise, which carries a term of 10 years, gives the village a 60 percent discount on street lights. The company also will collect the village's utility tax from its customers.

It was noted that the village still needs to grant a franchise to Union Electric Co. for areas in the village served by that utility company.

THE TRUSTEES voted to again contract with Stein and Associates of St. Louis for the village's annual audit. Stein and Associates has been used by the village in the past.

A business license for Clyde's Paradise Doughnuts was tabled until the trustees could learn more about plans for parking. The doughnut shop is to be located at 4007 Pontoon Road and is scheduled to open in about four weeks.

The trustees transferred $3,000 from contingencies, general fund administration, to the ambulance fund. Campbell Ambulance and the village have been unable to collect some $6,000 in ambulance bills, Treasurer Ray Gaudette explained.

ATTORNEY Keith Jensen said he would give a list of those who haven't paid their ambulance bills to a special process server.

The trustees also transferred $1,000 from the contingencies fund to the engineering fund.

In personnel matters, the trustees accepted the resignation of probationary patrolman Roger Smith, effective Jan. 23, and hired Jimmy Smith as a probationary patrolman, effective Jan. 24.

Jimmy E. Stuart was appointed village engineer, replacing the firm of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab.

Bubblemasters set dance on Feb. 28

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer

The annual dance sponsored by the Bubblemasters Scuba Club will take place Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

The public is invited to attend and reservations will be accepted at 876-5676 or 931-2912. Tickets costing $7.50 each also are available from club members.

Final arrangements for the event were made Monday night when the diving club's planning committee met at the home of Julie Yates, who is serving as dance chairman.

Paula Weiss is assisting as co-chairman.

Music for dancing will be presented from 8 p.m. until midnight on Feb. 28 by Backside, an Alton area band which plays a wide selection of music representing all musical tastes, Yates said.

The ticket price includes beer and soft drinks, plus hot chicken wings as snacks, the chairman said.

Members of the dance committee include Bill and Sue Schaefer, Al and Rita Young, Ed and Barb Duffin, Tim Murphy, Kathy Mokitas, Ron Yates, Wilfred and Linda Roder, Vance Weiss, Barb Gates, Pete Fourcault, immediate past president, and the Bubblemasters' current president, Glen Gates.

Medical course at GCC

Medical personnel may earn continuing certification through an introduction to radiologic technology course at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

The semester-long course will be taught at 7 p.m. Wednesday, beginning Jan. 21 in Room 313 at GCC, 4950 Maryville Road.

The course is open to registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, medical assistants, and those employed in doctors' offices, clinics and industries where radiographic procedures are applied to humans.

Registration and payment of $104 in tuition (in-district) may be made on the first night of the class. Other costs include $59.95 for the textbook and $10.75 for the workbook, both of which may be purchased at the GCC Bookstore.

Students in the class will earn 64 contact hours from the Illinois Department of Nuclear Safety and four college credit hours.

For more information, Dottie Bowers, BAC's radiologic technology coordinator, may be called toll-free at 1-800-BAC-5131, extension 259.

The curriculum is designed to familiarize participants with darkroom chemistry, film processing, standard radiographic procedures, anatomy and positioning, radiation protection and film quality.

Discipline to be topic at Wilson

"Assertive Discipline," a new discipline policy being used by teachers in the Granite City school district, will be explained by Mrs. Ellen Voyles, school principal, at the next Wilson PTA meeting.

Mrs. Voyles will answer questions that parents may have concerning the discipline policy. The meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Joy Rowland had as guests last week her daughters, Anita Potter of Rio Del, Calif., Sandra Morgan, and granddaughter, Patty, and great-grandson, Tyler, of Lexington, Kan. Another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus (Dawn) Schoenberg and children, Gus and Brenda, of St. Louis also visited here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Juanita) Craycraft spent two weeks in El Paso, Texas, visiting their son, Thomas, and his wife, Judy, and daughter, Bonnie Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aissie and sons, Andy and Jason, have returned from Peoria, where they visited Mrs. Aissie's sister, Virginia Frazier, and her husband, Harold. This was the first time the sisters had seen each other since they were separated 24 years ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Durr spent the past two weeks in Okawville, Ill., with her son, Henry Durr, and sons, Paul and Dwayne. She also visited her granddaughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Sharon) Gray and Jackie and Frank Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weathers and sons, Rob, Chris and Dan, have returned from Indian Shores Beach near Clearwater, Fla., where they enjoyed swimming, deep sea fishing and looking for rare shells. On Christmas Eve they were joined by friends from Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Teal and daughter, Sonya, and Laura Smith. They held a wieners roast, sat around a bonfire on the beach and sang Christmas carols.

On New Year's Eve they watched the tide going from lowest to highest, registering waves from two to nine feet high.

Mariners plan breakfast

Members of the Mariners group at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, East Chain of Rocks Road and Greenway Drive, will sponsor a breakfast in the Fellowship Hall of the church Jan. 18 from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

The breakfast will be followed by a worship service, and the Mariners will serve as pro tem for the regular church leaders for this service.

Those taking part in the special service will include Alice Cotter and Janet Wood as candlelighters. The call to worship will be given by Robert Knight. Tim Noud will lead unison prayer and the Old Testament lesson will be presented by Charlotte Parker.

The group will sing the "Mariners Prayer" and the New Testament lesson will be presented by Georgia Simpson. The message and the Epistle will be given by Harold Starr and the affirmation of faith by Karen Bryarly.

Announcements will be by Ellie Knight, with Tom and Lucia Norris of Godfrey, Lewis and Clark District Mariners first mates, installing the officers.

After the installation, responsive prayer will be given by Ellie Knight. The pastoral prayer will be by the church pastor, the Rev. Linda Shugert, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Laurabeth Wittkamp, Bettie Futch and Avalon Young will be in charge of the offering. A prayer of thanksgiving will be given by Roger Moore, and the charge and the benediction will be by Rev. Shugert. The breakfast and service will serve as a kickoff for a pizza sale sponsored by the Mariners Jan. 18-24.

The Bryarly twins, John James and Nicholas Scott, were baptized Jan. 11 at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church during the worship services. The Rev. Linda Shugert, pastor, officiated.

The twins are the infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick (Karen) Bryarly, 201 Lenox Ave., Mitchell. They have two older sons, Mathew and Michael.

After the church services, a reception was held in the fellowship hall.

Shannon Lynn Colbert was baptized Jan. 4 during the worship service at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Linda Shugert officiated. Shannon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael (Judy) Colbert of Mitchell. A party was held Jan. 11 in her honor, and doughnuts and punch were served.

The Mitchell Presbyterian Mariners held their annual "progressive dinner." Hors d'oeuvres were served at the home of Laurabeth Wittkamp, followed by a salad bar at the home of John and Linda Shugert.

The main course was served at the home of Ellie and Bob Knight and dessert was served by Alice Cotter in her home, followed by refreshments and games at the home of Charlotte and Harold Starr. Those attending were Laurabeth Wittkamp, Alice Cotter, Janet Wood, Georgia Simpson, Roger Moore, Charlotte and Harold Starr, Tim and Josie Noud, Bob and Ellie Knight, Linda and John Shugert and Charlotte and Richard Parker.

Mrs. Rose Vivod, 252 Sunny Shores, with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Helen) Vivod and children, Harry and Angela, of Godfrey, motored to Mountain Grove, Mo., to visit Mrs. Vivod's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken (Tina) Smith and children, Joey and Kelly. Pictures were taken and gifts exchanged. Later, they all went to the Hayloft Restaurant, which is built to look like a barn with a loft and is furnished with antiques and articles found around farms of bygone days.

Mr. and Mrs. David (Daisy) Ferguson, Mitchell, motored to Tamms, Ill., to attend the wedding of his nephew, Stephen, and his bride, Miss Sara Bartlett of Cairo, Ill., were married at the Sandy Creek Baptist Church in rural Tamms.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony.

The Fergusons, originally from the Tamms area, met many friends and family members, some of whom they had not seen for many years.

Johnathan "Mark" Reed, a student at Olney (Ill.) Central College, has just learned that he made the President's Honor Roll and earned a scholastic scholarship with a 3.75 average out of a possible 3.89.

He graduated from Granite City High School North and attended SIUE for two years. This is his first year at OCC, where he is studying the art of cabinet and furniture making. It is the only college in the state that offers this course. He is the son of Jack and Marlyse Reed, 30 Moorland Drive.

Members of Faith Chapel Church, 664 Ashland Ave., are searching for a new minister and during the search guest speakers have been asked to present the Sunday messages.

This week the Rev. Jimmy Carroll preached at both the morning and evening services. He makes his home in Florissant with his wife, Wanda, and their two teenage children.

On Jan. 18, the Rev. Cecil Cook will conduct the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Opal) Davis, 4925 Mueller Ave., hosted a holiday dinner for 28 family members. The guests included their son, Bill Davis Jr., his wife, Terrie, and their children, Tad and Ashley, who were here from Oklahoma City, Okla.

Also present were Earl and Florence Bryson and children, John and twins Don and Dawn, David and Susan Smith and children, David, Scottie, Leslie and Holly, of Livingston, Keith and Kathy Hopke and son, Keith, Dennis and Jackie Cann and daughter, Jamie, David and Barbara Vail and son, Eric, and Joe and Alma Dutchik and son, David Raney.

The guests also visited Terrie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Iris) Curtis, 1407 Pontoon Road, and other relatives and friends before returning to Oklahoma City.

Bill and Opal Davis also enjoyed a visit with their granddaughter, Laura Vaughn, Fallon, Nev., who is a student at Southwestern Baptist University, Bolivar, Mo. She made a stop in Mitchell to visit her grandparents while she was on her Christmas break before continuing her trip home to Nevada.

Mrs. Fern Gieselman, 4904 Hills Ave., enjoyed a visit by her son and

Reservations available at Carlyle Lake sites

Although the 1987 recreation season is not yet here, it's not too early to begin making plans for group outings. The Carlyle Lake Management Office is taking reservations for picnic shelters and group camping areas. Picnic shelters are available in 11 scenic locations around the lake. When not reserved, they are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Two group areas offer overnight occupancy for a family or organization. The Lotus Group Area at Coles Creek features large, canvas walls tents placed on wooden platforms. Also available on the site are bathrooms, drinking water, and an enclosed picnic shelter. This area is attractive to groups interested in walk-in tent camping. Motorized units and trailers are welcome, but must remain on the area's parking lot. A new attraction this year will be the McNair Group Area, situated in the Dam East Recreation Area. It offers 20 camp pads equipped with electricity, a picnic shelter, and bathrooms. A small swimming beach and a picnic area with two picnic shelters are adjacent to McNair. Reservations may be made by calling the Carlyle Lake office at 594-2484. A $25 reservation fee is assessed.

caused "bidding and accounting complexities." Rogers said the rate for senior citizen basic cable service will not be reduced from $8.95. Seniors had been paying half the regular rate. "We believe you will agree that a 50 percent discount rate is clearly far in excess of all other discounts offered," according to Rogers. "Even at the adjusted rate the service can be considered a bargain." ROGERS SAID he believed the City Council was informed about the rate increase before the council approved the sale of Southwestern Cable TV Ltd. to Cencom. "At the time Cencom petitioned Granite City for the transfer, the rate adjustment question was raised," according to Rogers, "and we honestly believe that we answered in a manner consistent with all of our previous presentations to the effect that reasonable increases would be sought." Cruse said city officials were misled. "I'M UPSET about the rate increases," he said. Cruse said it appears Cencom is trying to improve service. "I'm convinced, as far as cable TV is concerned, they're trying to make it the best in the country," he said. Seniors who have lost jobs when Cencom bought out Southwestern have not been rehired. The employees are members of the Communication Workers of America. Barry Babcock, Cencom executive vice president, said Cencom has been negotiating with CWA representatives, but declined to comment on results. "We are talking with them and going over the contract," he said. JIM Rachel, president of CWA Local 4217, could not be reached for comment. A union representative has classified Cencom as being anti-union.

ty of the restaurant-tavern prior to the hearing date. THE MAYOR asked Dymas to speak to the council and she said, "Bob Grieve told me he was not against me getting a liquor and business license, but he could not vote for the recommendation because this is an election year." She also said Grieve told her he had talked with "Alderman William Gushfield and other aldermen and was assured they would vote in favor of the motion" to allow the place to continue as a tavern. AS GRIEVE DENIED the accuracy of her quotes, tempers flared. Fred Bathon, city treasurer, told the mayor the council meeting was not the place to "badger" Grieve. Alderman Don Wilson answered Bathon's remarks by telling him

Madison sticker sale in progress

Madison residents still have the opportunity to purchase a city auto license sticker for $1 until Feb. 1, when the price will increase to $5, the city clerk said. Senior citizens may get their stickers at the City Hall free of charge. To date, there have been 900 licenses sold. It is expected the final number will be 2,500.

School Superintendent sought for Venice schools same money. Superintendents who stay in one place always fall behind in the salary level," he said. VICKERS has been in the Venice school system for 38 years and plans to retire in June. He served as superintendent for 13 years. Brochures detailing criteria for prospective candidates and statistics about the district will be mailed Jan. 20, to between 400 and 500 institutions, Wisner said. The initial mailing pretty well reaches coast-to-coast, but you will find candidates primarily will come from the Midwest. "THE CRITERIA established here tonight will be used in judging the candidacy of the applicants," Wisner said. To find a qualified superintendent, board members earlier agreed to utilize the IASB's Superintendent Search Service. A SPECIAL SEARCH committee to aid in the task was appointed. The search and screening group consists of George E. Moore Sr., a former Granite City School Board member; Wade James, retired assistant superintendent of Madison schools and an educator for 38 years; and Wisner, the IASB's field director. "George has been extremely perceptive while serving on other superintendent search committees and Wade is very knowledgeable in working with school boards and is well-known to you all," said Wisner, explaining the committee's role. AT THE INITIAL meeting, the number of candidates making up a final selection list (five to seven) and a composite profile of a qualified applicant were established. The annual salary was set in the mid-$40,000 range and the application deadline is March 3. In addition to a candidate's academic qualifications, the board seeks applicants who display these traits: AN ABILITY to communicate ideas to the board, staff and community; experience in and knowledge of sound fiscal management procedures; and ability to develop both short- and long-range goals; and to provide

Dialogue for seniors slated

"Communicating Religious Concepts and Ideas Via the Mass Media" will be the subject of the next "Dialogue with Senior Citizens" Jan. 21 at SIUE. The session is scheduled from 1:30 until 4 p.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Room of the University Center. John R. Rider, professor of mass communication at SIUE, will examine the methods and results of religious groups which have attempted to communicate their message through the mass media. Dialogue is an educational and cultural enrichment program for older adults and is sponsored by the SIUE Gerontology Program. 692-3454. It is free and open to all senior citizens in the Metro East area.

Search committee members will screen applications March 5 and will recommend finalists to the board March 17. The importance of educational leadership was emphasized by Vickers, who said a large number of staff members may retire in the next five years. WISNER SAID fewer persons, including women and other minorities, have applied for superintendent positions in recent years. "The availability of superintendent candidates is extremely limited right now. When I first started with the IASB search service 9 1/2 years ago, we would get 60 to 100 or more applications for a job. Now you do well if you attract 30 to 40 applicants," Wisner said. "THE NUMBERS are definitely down. Many school administrators are leaving, some taking early retirement, due to the difficulties of the job. "And successful principals who might be candidates, seeing these problems, are saying, 'I don't need that,'" he said. School districts in large cities retain a superintendent an average of four years, while the top administrators in other areas stay an average of five to seven years, he said. "SMART administrators are scared to death of following an institution like Bob, Wisner said. "But there are exceptions. "We will get calls about the board, and the fact you have a good board with good people on it is an advantage," Wisner said. Only the search committee will see initial applications, with the board receiving the names of five to seven finalists. "WE RECOMMEND following this procedure to protect board members in the event any form of pressure is brought to bear. "It's best not to know all the applicants," Wisner said. Final selections are made by the board, which will conduct the initial and second interviews in late March. Venice board members also were encouraged by the search committee to visit communities where top candidates are employed.

degree in counseling from SIUC. "WE HAD five children and after we got them educated I thought it was time to get me a little more education," he said. "I've never held a counseling job in Granite City," Roberts said. "I hoped to, but it never worked out." After he retired, Roberts taught on a substitute basis at Coordinated Youth Services' alternative school. Roberts is a "Bad" MacMillan, director of Coordinator Youth, had Roberts as a chemistry teacher in 1941. "He spent a lot of time to get attention to students," MacMillan said. "He's just one of those excellent teachers." Another former student of Roberts' is Shang Greathouse, executive director of the Metro East Sanitary District. "WHAT A hell of a nice guy,"

Greathouse said. Greathouse said he always called Roberts "professor." "I always had great respect for him," he said. "He was a great teacher." ROBERTS ALSO taught retired Army Gen. Andrew Jackson Good-paster, former supreme commander of NATO and head of the U.S. Military Academy at Westpoint. Roberts said he can't remember all his former students. "You talk to people and you don't have the slightest idea if they made all B's or C's," he said. THOUGH RETIRED, Roberts said he remains active. He plays golf, bowls and plants a garden in spring, said Roberts' wife, Delores. "I think he's pretty great at 81," she said. Roberts' former students, she said, still respect him. "He plays golf with guys he taught," she said, "and they still call him 'Mr. Roberts.'"

Blood drive at Amvets

The Maidson Lions Club is sponsoring a blood drive for the American Red Cross on Monday, Jan. 19, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Maidson Amvets Hall, 1700 Kennedy Drive.

Volunteers are being asked to donate blood to avoid a potential shortage, Travis Rash, chairman, said.

He added that this is the first time the club has sponsored a blood drive. Juice, coffee and cookies will be provided for the donors by members of the Lions Club. No appointment is necessary, and all eligible residents of the Quad-City area are invited to participate.

State balance still below desired total

The state ended December with a balance of $89 million, the second lowest year-end balance since the last 10 fiscal years, Comptroller Roland W. Burris said.

The Dec. 31 balance, which marked the end of the fiscal year, was $89 million, or $100 million below the balance under $100 million, is the lowest December month-end balance since the $29 million record of Dec. 31, 1982.

It also marked the fifth straight month the balance has been below the $200 million warning zone level, the benchmark for healthy cash flow, Burris said.

Warriors pumuck Flyers; grab lead

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — This game was filled with enough dramatics to last a season.

But the biggest moments were provided by senior Tim Hogan. His four points in the final 30 seconds of play propelled Granite City to a 70-67 win over East St. Louis and gave the Warriors sole possession of first place in the conference.

The Warriors are now 9-4 and 3-1 in the SWC. The Flyers are 8-4 and 3-1 in conference play.

"That was a big win for us," said a relieved Don Deterding, the Warrior coach who notched his 388th career win.

East St. Louis lead most of the game, but Granite City clawed its way back. The Warriors trailed 52-50 after three quarters, but with 3:36 left had built a 62-58 lead.

The Flyers trimmed the lead to one (66-65) when Otis Gunner stole the ball and went in uncontested for a layup.

Two free throws by Kenny Brown gave the Flyers the lead back with 52 seconds left.

However, Hogan canned a jumper from the top of the key with 25 seconds left. Then, on the Flyers' next possession, he stole the ball and as he fell out of bounds knocked it off Brown giving the Warriors control once again.

Then, with seven seconds left, the senior guard canned two free throws to ice the game.

"I wanted to shoot them so bad," Hogan said afterwards.

However, Hogan admitted that the steal was a "bigger play" than making the foul shots. "That kind of knocked them down a little. Hogan scored a game-high 24 points. Jamie Hogan added 17 points and Tom Taylor dropped in 18.

The Flyers had five players in double figures, led by Juiyoun Brown who had 17 points.

"We had several opportunities to win the game," said East St. Louis coach Coy Nunn. "But everytime we needed to get over the hump, we didn't get the big play."

The Warriors and Flyers have developed quite a sports rivalry over the past several seasons. The relationship no doubt has been fueled by football.

The Warriors ended East St. Louis' 44-game winning streak and although the Flyers won the rematch in the playoffs, the two schools have waged some bitter battles.

"I think it all started in baseball," said Jamie Hogan. "We have played some tough games against them the past couple of years."

Granite City outscored East St. Louis 20-15 in the fourth quarter. Tim Hogan had eight of those points.

"There were several heroes tonight," Deterding said. "But I have to say that Timmy had an outstanding game. He's just one of those players who has an intense desire to win."

One of the keys in the game was rebounding. The much-smaller Warriors held their own on the boards. The Flyers held only a 30-29 advantage in rebounding.

Taylor led the Warriors with 10 rebounds.

Granite City started the game sluggish and fell behind 10-3 after committing several turnovers.

The Warriors, however, battled back and were down 20-17 at the end of the quarter.

The Flyers continued to apply the pressure, scoring the first five points of the second quarter and opening a 25-17 lead.

Granite City picked up the pace after the Flyers' Victor Appleby and Roy Terry each picked up their third foul.

A back-door layup by Eric Ryterksi cut the Flyer lead to 36-32 at the intermission. Ryterksi who missed three days of practice because of illness played well. He finished with seven points.

It was the Warriors' free throw shooting that kept them in the game in the first half. Granite City hit 12 of 15 from the line as opposed to just 10 of 25 from the field.

"I said at the end of the half that we have to keep contact with them," Deterding said. "Early they got some momentum and made some runs. I didn't want to let them to that in the second half and I thought we did a pretty good job of containing them."

Nunn, meanwhile, had another version of what happened.

"Where do you want to start?" he asked. Hogan and Hogan, Hogan and company. However you want to describe it.

Deterding admitted that before the game Tim Hogan was "extremely nervous."

"I was curious to see how he would play," the coach said.

Late in the game it was the Warriors' tough defense that was the difference. East Side committed nine second half turnovers, including two in the final 1:28.

One of the key defensive plays was turned in by Ryterksi. With about 45 seconds left, he hustled in to harass Appleby when it ap-

Granite-East Side newest SWC rivals

GRANITE CITY — Another chapter unfolded Friday night in what is fast-becoming Granite City's "other rivalry."

Long before the Warriors punctured the East St. Louis football legend last year, Granite City chief rival wore purple.

Now the boys in orange and blue have stepped closer to center stage. Granite City vs. East St. Louis is the latest Southwestern conference heavyweight attraction.

"After football, they really want to beat us bad in everything," said Tim Hogan, whose 24 points helped the Warriors down East St. Louis 70-67.

Granite City-East Side will probably never top a Warrior-Kalok soccer game. But the heated competition in the other sports is reaching a fever pitch.

The love-hate relationship developed on the baseball diamond. Both teams have been involved in some classic confrontations.

In the final meeting of the regular season last year, the Warriors took a 6-5 win in eight innings. Prior to that victory, East St. Louis had beaten the Warriors three straight and each game was decided by one run.

It was those same Flyers who knocked the Warriors out of the baseball playoffs a year ago, coming from behind to chalk up a 3-2 win.

In football, Granite City returned the favor wrestling away the SWC crown and handing the Flyers their first loss in over three years.

The teams will meet one more time on the basketball court this year and then there's baseball.

Stay tuned the fun has just started.

One of the key defensive plays was turned in by Ryterksi. With about 45 seconds left, he hustled in to harass Appleby when it appeared he would make an easy layup. As it turned out, the ball rolled off the rim and Appleby then missed the front end of a one-and-one. That miss set the stage for Hogan's go-ahead basket.

The loss snapped a four-game winning streak for the Flyers, who were to have played rival Lincoln Saturday.

"Nobody really expected us to be in this position (leading the conference)," Nunn said. "We are still in good shape. They still have to come to our place."

Expect another dogfight.

NOTES: Granite City drew the four seed in the regional tournament, meaning they will play East St. Louis Lincoln in the first round. The Flyers were seeded second and Cahokia third.

Litchfield Tournament

Trojans advance to finals with free throw shooting

By Dave Whaley

LITCHFIELD — It was a tough game, and the officials called it close. Such a game usually ends with both teams going to the free throw line a lot.

That was the case here Thursday in the semifinals of the Litchfield Tournament. Madison and Jerseyville made a total of 52 trips to the line, and it was the Trojans who came out on top. They sank 30 of 27 free throws and won 72-60 to earn the right to face archrival Venice in the tournament championship game. That was to be played Saturday night.

In a game featuring good foul shooting, no one was better than Lamont Johnson. Although fouling out in the last two minutes, the 6-3 senior forward was the game's leading scorer with 23 points. He was only 4 of 15 from the field, but he canned 11 of 12 free throws as the Trojans (9-5) won their fourth in a row against a pesky Panther team that fell to 3-6.

"Lamont and Gary Stanley are the only two guys who saw a lot of varsity playing time last year," said Trojan coach Rich Essington.

The other players look to Lamont for some leadership.

There were 46 fouls whistled in the game — 25 against the Trojans — but Madison played pretty well inbetween the whistles.

"We had some rough spots,"

JERSEYVILLE SCORING 14 18 9 21-60

MADISON 17 22 17 16-72

JERSEYVILLE: Brown 18, Dunham 12, Walsh 10, Walker 7, Tenner 7, Garrell 4, Schroeder 2. FG-25, FT-14, PF-21.

MADISON: Johnson 23 (4 blocks), Mosby 18, Ware 11, Briggs 8, McCarthy 4, Sanders 4, Stanley 4. Leonard 2. FG-26, FT-23, PF-25.

Essington said. "It got real rough near the end. If you have a 20-point lead and don't take it to 30, then the other team can come back and suddenly it's eight points."

Madison did have a 22-point lead (56-34) near the end of the third quarter after a three-point play by Johnson after he made a steal. But it was 56-39 at the end of the quarter, and Jerseyville got as close as 10 points a couple of times in the fourth quarter.

"Jerseyville has a pretty fine young team," Essington said. "They didn't play like a 3-6 team. They have played some real good teams, like Lincoln (Ill.) and Granite City at the Collinsville Tournament."

Senior center Ted Walsh kept the Panthers in the game in the first quarter with eight points, and Jerseyville even took a brief 14-10 lead. But two baskets by Sean Mosby and one by Stanley restored Madison's lead for good.

"Mosby did a fine job tonight," Essington said. "We've had some good guard play in the last few games, and that's something we've been lacking. If we keep improving at guard like we have been lately, we're going to be real good at the end of the year."

The Panthers stayed close behind the shooting of Jeff Dunham and Brad Brown in the second quarter. Brown, who had 18 points, hit a jumper that cut Madison's lead to 27-26, but the Trojans' next eight points as their jumping ability began to hurt Jerseyville's offense. They had seven blocked shots in the game, with Johnson getting four.

Carlos Briggs and Steve Sanders hit jump shots, then Briggs hit Mosby with a beautiful long pass for a layup before Johnson's jumper made it 35-26.

Things got better in the decisive third quarter as Madison outscored the Panthers 17-4 at the outset to open up a 56-34 edge. They scored the first eight points, then two free throws and a three-point play by Johnson finished off the string.

"We've been making our free throws, and that's an important part of the game," Essington said. "I can sense that these guys are starting to get serious. Guys are coming out early for practice, and that wasn't happening earlier. They're getting a feel for the game, and a feel for me."

Wrestlers clubbed by Francis Howell

It was a tough evening Thursday for the Warrior wrestling team.

They dropped a 46-18 decision to defending Missouri state champion Francis Howell in St. Charles. Winners for the Warriors were Gerald Moss at 112 pounds, an 8-5 decision over Joe Howard; Jon Morgan at 132, a pin of Brian Lassere at 5:52; Paul Brandt at 167, a pin of George Isbell at 3:46; and Mike Lynch at 185, a 6-5 decision over Jeff Siler.

Rich Wilson dropped the best match of the night, a 6-5 decision to David Byrd at 126 pounds. Sophomore Brent Davis, wrestling at 98 pounds for the first time this year, lost a 16-1 decision to fellow sophomore Sam Henson. Henson was fourth in the Missouri state tournament last year and is approaching a state record this year with 75 takedowns.

Granite City was to wrestle in a quad meet at Hazelwood Central Friday, then they are back home for a match against Belleville East Friday night, a makeup of last Friday's match that was postponed because of snow. The Warriors are at Parkway West Friday night, then host a meet Saturday at 11 a.m. against Collinsville, Triad and Jerseyville.

The Warrior girls basketball team saw its record fall to 3-12 (1-7 in the Southwestern Conference) Thursday with a 60-39 loss to Belleville West, the No. 6 large school team in the area. Any Rakkers had 17 points for the Maroons, while Nancy Scheller added 15 points and 10 rebounds. Freshman Kim Pawlak continued her fine play with 16 points.

The Lady Warriors trailed by only 12, 42-30, after three quarters, but were outscored 19-9 in the final period. They play at Wood River Wednesday night.

Stars fall at East Central Granite City Campus is now 6-10 after an 80-64 loss at East Central in a Midwestern Community College Athletic Conference game Thursday.

Kirt Robinson again paced the Stars with 22 points, while Madison native Corey Silas added 18. Granite City High School graduate Don Stevanus had nine points. Fred Towns led East Central with 31 points.

The Stars, now 1-5 in MCCAC games, play at Richmond tonight and at Lincoln Land tomorrow before playing in the Mineral Area Tournament this weekend. They face Meramec Jan. 28 in their next home game.

but of just making a good showing.

"We just want to be respectable," he said of the Trojans' second try against the Devils, the No. 2 Class A team in the state. "I just hope we can stay organized and give them a good game."

It's the first of back-to-back games for Madison against two of the top four small school teams in Illinois. No. 4 Martinsville comes to town Friday.

"We'll find out how good we are," Essington said.

NOTES: Litchfield edged Lincolnwood in a consolation game Thursday, 66-63. The Purple Panthers played Taylorville, 71-63 winners over Taylor Wednesday, Friday night. Hillsboro and Jerseyville played for third place Friday. Jersey beat Madison 80-56, 19 in Venice. The Devils were 14-1 and winners of 13 in a row heading into Saturday's game. The Trojans are hoping things will be much different on a neutral court.

Rules clinic for softball umpires

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a rules clinic for anyone who plans to or is interested in umpiring in the park district softball program next summer.

Ray Hoffman will conduct the clinic, to be held at the Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos Avenues, on Monday, Jan. 26, at 7 p.m.

All phases of umpiring will be discussed, such as dress code, general playing rules that include new rules this year, and positioning. It is very important that all umpires, whether new or old, be in attendance at this clinic, according to Steve Kessel, director of parks and recreation. For more information, call the Wilson Park Office at 877-3089.
